Unwritten rules of European everyday life (by Thomas de Maiziere)

Habits of the Europeans are common: we do not cover of our faces.

We share the European heritage with its positive and negative aspects.

We are the Christians and we share religious peace.

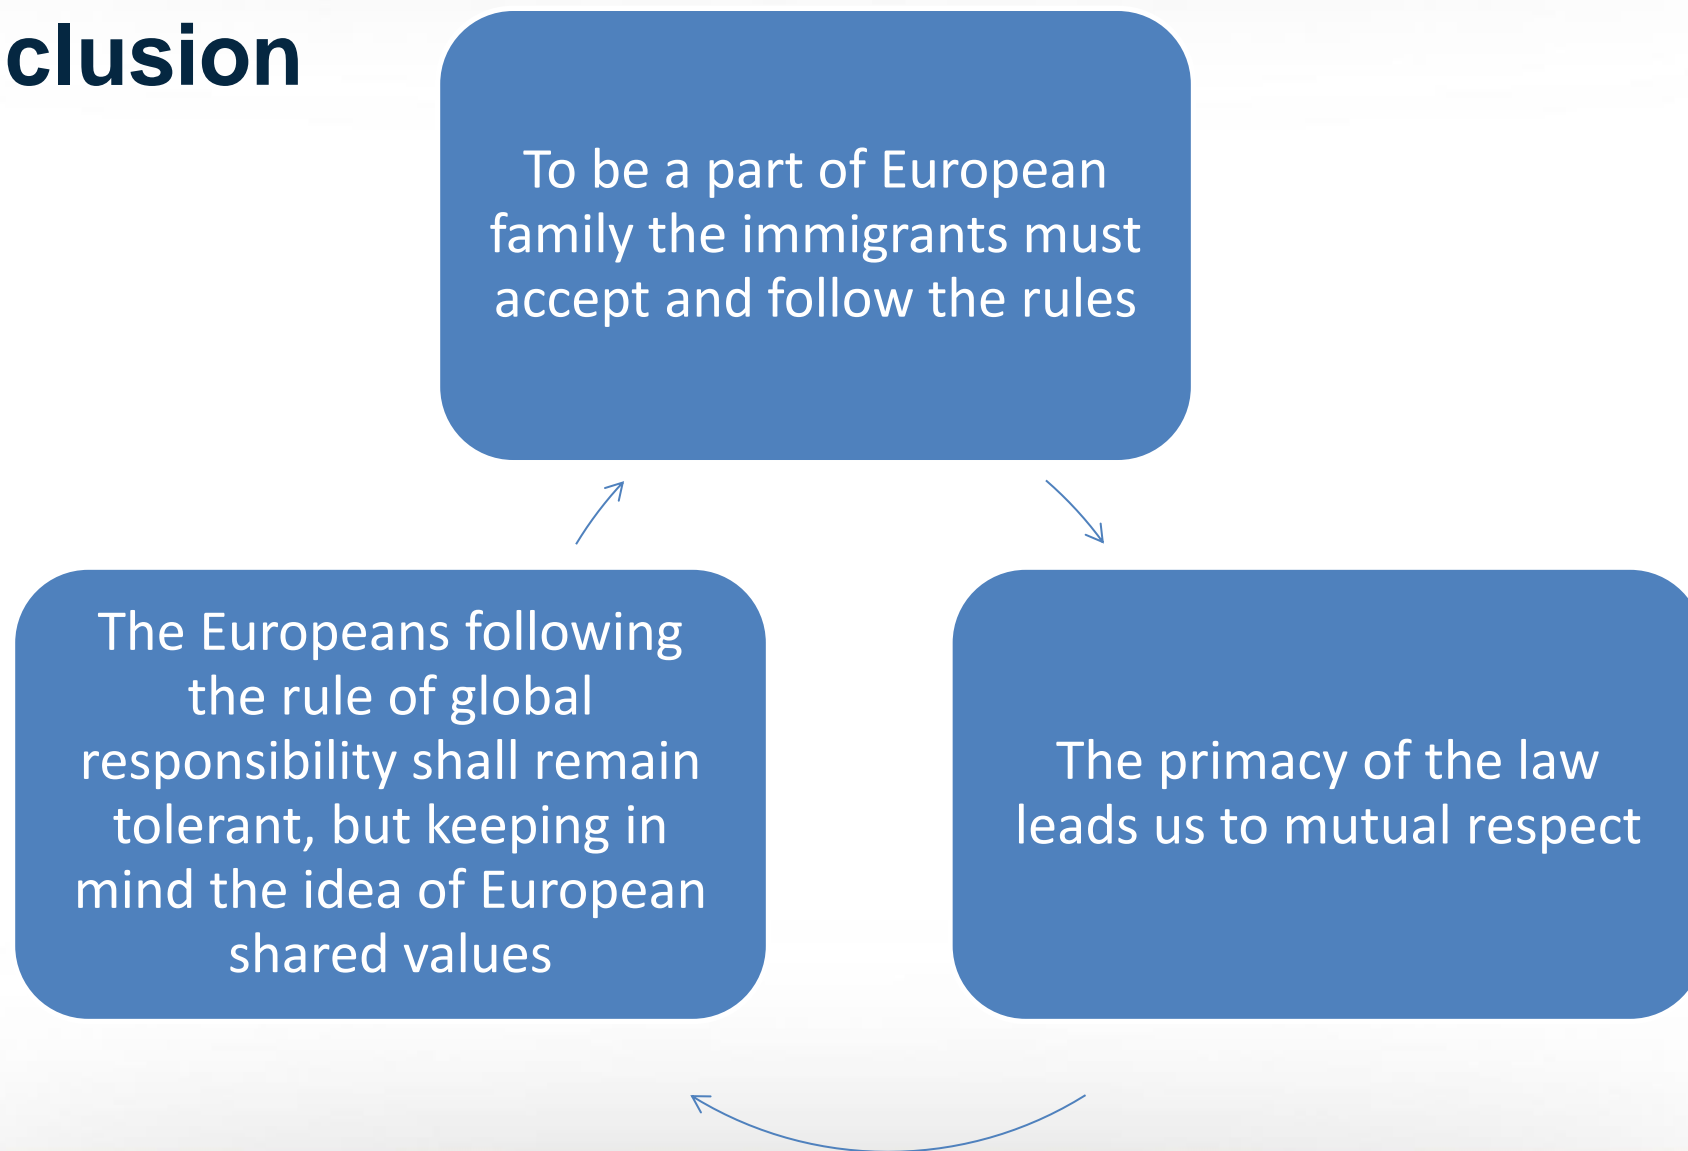

In member states there is a rule of primacy of the law beyond the religion.

Europeans lives are based on compromise, not conflict (searching for solution).

Unwritten rules of European everyday life (by Thomas de Maiziere)

- Protection of minority and respect of their rights (tolerance).
- Equality in terms of religion, political preferences or gender.
- Social market economy.
- Respect to difference social models.
- Family as a basic social unit (1+1+...).
